

HOME CEREMONY UNITES COUPLE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Perkins at 1929 W. 262nd street was decorated with lovely flowers from their garden Saturday night for the wedding which united their daughter, Ruth Maxene Perkins and Joseph D. Cooper, engineer second class, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cooper of Anchorage, Kentucky.

About fifty guests were present for the ceremony performed by Bishop Russell Robertson of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Mrs. Cooper chose for the occasion a white crepe afternoon dress complemented by a corsage of orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Beverly Perkins, who wore grey crepe and a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Best man was Robert Perkins of Torrance, brother of the bride. A reception immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride, a graduate of Narbonne High School, is employed at Columbia Steel Company, Tor-

A bank of pink carnations and greenery formed the lovely centerpiece for the table in the banquet room from which were served cake, coffee and punch. Hostesses were Doris Cockburn and Shannon Smoak Dawris and matrons assisting were Mesdames Michael Hickey, Wayne Madison, Frank Smoak, and Helen Beckett.

Colorful Installation Seats Bethel Officers

Miss Sharon Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lang of 26223 Regent street, was crowned queen of Lomita Bethel No. 137, International Order of Job's Daughters, at Torrance Masonic Temple Saturday night before a large audience of Masons, members of affiliated orders, relatives and friends of the Bethel.

W. Murray Little, past master of Lomita Lodge, F&AM No. 644, was master of ceremonies and L'Ceana Brunskill, retiring queen, installed the officers. Assisting her in installation ceremonies were Sue Madison, guide; Lois MacPhail, marshal; Jackie Stricker, chaplain; Maxine Schildmeyer, recorder; Leona Beck, senior custodian; Eleanor Vohlstrom, junior custodian, all past honored queens of Lomita Bethel No. 137, and Mrs. Ila MacPhail, musician. Ribbon-covered batons were carried and corsages pinned to the shoulders of both the guide and marshal as they conducted the officers to their stations.

Appearing at the arch through which the officers and members of the celestial choir were to make their entrance were little Suzanne Lang of El Segundo, niece of the queen-elect and David Freigh of San Pedro who acted as pages. Suzanne wore a full-length gown of pink and carried blue bachelor buttons and her escort wore a buttonier of bachelor buttons.

Other officers inducted were Jeanne Hamilton, senior princess; Janet Hood, junior princess; Edna Sandstrom, guide; and Dorothy Whippo, marshal; Christina Nelson, outer guard; Theano Peterson, inner guard; Carol Franklin, junior custodian; Una Mae Brunskill, senior custodian; Pat Brown, treasurer; Evelyn Elliott, recorder; Carolyn Powers, librarian; Colleen McGinnis, musician; Margaret Shields, chaplain; JoAnn Duran, Bonnie Bryan, Jane Turman, Shirley Wish and Ruby Sandstrom, messengers.

Attractive sprays of gladiolus were carried by the line officers; other officers carried nosegays of flowers, and members of the celestial choir carried crocheted purple paper baskets filled with summer flowers. Members of the choir were Marilyn Walker, Marilyn Spaan, Paula Francis, Clarence Mann, Kay Francis, Mary Pederson, Betty Byrd, Joyce Cadwell, Betty Wilson, Velma Collier, Eleanor Elliott, Sandra Rice, Marilyn Johnson, Martha Cadwell, Betty Brown, Nellie McVay, Carol Graham, Pat Pullen, Ann Collins, Mary Montonye, and Jean Anderson.

Introduced and seated in the east were Mrs. Ruby Francis, Job's Daughters guardian and Michael J. Hickey, associate guardian.

Two soloists appeared on the program. Miss Mickey Wood, soprano; and Miss Lois MacPhail, cellist. Ushers were Kenneth Admire, Leland Griffin and Shelley Madison.

Presentations were made to several officers and introduction of many guests were made by the honored queen and line officers. Miss Lang received a beautiful gavel from her parents on which was mounted the Job's Daughters' pin which she had worn since her initiation into the Bethel four years ago. L'Ceana Brunskill, retiring queen, was presented with a past queen's pin in appreciation of her services during her term of office. Phyllis and Nancy Plummer, who are moving to Salem, Oregon, were presented with story-book dolls, each dressed in the costume of her particular Bethel office and a past princess' pin, a gift from her mother went to Phyllis Plummer. Bill Schildmeyer made the presentations. Among the out-of-town guests introduced were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Quesinberry of Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Washburn of Oxnard; Charles Warner, 75-year-old grandfather of Sharon Lang, honored queen; and her aunt, Mrs. Lloyd Drain of Chandler, Arizona.

Closing the ceremonies the celestial choir sang "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and Miss
